

When God said, “it is not good that man should be alone” He was referring to marriage. But we could apply that to our gathering together! We may be “socially distancing” today but we are one in spirit and in truth. I’m really glad you are here. And if you’re reading this online while watching at home, please know we respect your decision. We are one in this.

We will regather in stages. There will be three services this week and next week. We will reevaluate for June. Be sure to check your email. And if you haven’t been receiving email from us please check your spam folder. We try to send two to three updates per week. If you are not on the list, please email Christina Lindholm at christina@westhavenbaptist.org.

One positive development is our involvement in a church replant. I mentioned in a sermon several months ago I would pursue this. The church is First Baptist Church of Linwood. We will be partnering with other churches in this. Baptist Press has a story about it with a quote from me. I don’t know exactly what our involvement will be. We will be serving under the leadership of Mark Clifton of the North American Mission Board. Please pray about this. Also, I am talking to another church in the area. It is possible we might try to replant that church later in the year. There is much to think about here. The possibilities are very exciting.

I feel as if God has rebooted the whole world in the past few months. And it’s easy to see the negative side of this. Let’s look at the positive. What doors could He be opening? Could God be in the process of doing a great work? Let’s trust Him fully and joyously.

I have a challenge for you. Let’s assume restrictions are eased and we can meet more freely by July. Who can you bring to church with you? Pray for that person(s) now. This situation has changed everyone’s norms. That person you’ve talked to about Jesus? Maybe they are more open now. That person you want to talk to about Jesus? Maybe they are open now. I experienced a surprising gospel conversation recently and I didn’t initiate it. Let’s pray for God to send workers into the harvest. And then let’s put feet on those prayers!
